Understanding Documents in Trade Finance

Wednesday 17th of June 2020
9am-5.00pm

Understanding the function and effects of documents used in Trade Finance is essential to obtain financial security for all parties involved.

Exporters and importers are responsible for making sure that the commercial contract stipulates appropriate documents that each can reasonably be expected to provide. For example, if the contract requires that the exporter must present a document that the importer holds, trouble will certainly follow. Banks need to understand the underlying transaction to be able to assess their risk of potential losses or to eliminate the possibilities of financial crime or breach of law or violation of sanctions.

Transport documents, as one of the most important documents in Trade, not only facilitate the movement of goods but are also, in certain cases, “documents of title”, i.e. whoever holds the document is entitled to possession of the goods. They are also usually stipulated in the L/C, therefore are important for not only transportation but also provide for the ability to control the goods after dispatch as well as control over payment timelines. Therefore, precise understanding of said documents is vital.

Confidence that “the client and/or other party will always get it right” should not result in blind reliance: understanding documents, Incoterms® and contractual obligations will not only allow you to check the delivery terms for responsibilities on carriage and insurance and the passing of risk, but will also base your communication on an equal footing, so to find the best trade finance solution for everyone involved.

*Please note that the programme will be expanded with further topics and recent developments shortly. Additionally, participants are invited to submit their special questions and cases in advance to: e.treu@icc-austria.org
